

To the FCC Commissioners:

Thank you for establishing low-power FM radio stations. I am editor and publisher of a community weekly newspaper in Western Montana and have covered efforts by our local high school in St. Regis to establish an LPFM station for our community. I have been impressed by the enthusiasm, creativity, and community spirit as volunteers have pulled together to work through the many issues involved. I think this ability to allow each community to have its own voice strengthens our country and our way of life. We especially appreciate your efforts at times like these when our way of life is threatened. I hope that you will not only preserve the ability for communities to obtain their own LPFM stations, but that you will also expand this ability so that our communities in our state can benefit from this service.

Sincerely,

John Q. Murray
